

BMO gives $20,000 to rec complex

Amherstburg news

Bank will sponsor scoreclock in indoor soccer dome

By Ron Giofu/The Amherstburg Echo

BMO Bank of Montreal donated $20,000 towards the Amherstburg Recreation Complex Sept. 27. From left: Mayor Wayne Hurst, BMO branch manager Theresa Tessier and BMO area manager Remo DiPaolo. (Photo: Ron Giofu/The Amherstburg Echo)

AMHERSTBURG — BMO Bank of Montreal is the latest organization to donate to the Amherstburg Recreation Complex.

BMO announced a $20,000 donation at Monday night's council meeting with it being in the form of a sponsorship of the indoor soccer dome scoreboard.

"The Bank of Montreal believes in building stronger communities by investing in the neighborhoods, towns and regions in which they operate. Through volunteerism, donations and their sponsorship programs, BMO's commitment to helping meet the needs of the organizations that make our communities strong is unwavering," said Indaba Marketing president Debi Croucher.

Indaba Marketing is in charge of the fundraising for the new complex.

The donation by BMO is the latest in a series of donations. At the Sept. 13 council meeting, RC Spencer and Associates made a donation of their own.

Theresa Tessier, manager of the local BMO branch, said they were pleased to contribute.

"I want to say how exciting it is to be part of this. We're having fun and we're glad to be part of it," said Tessier.

BMO area manager Remo DiPaolo said the project has support within many levels of BMO, including as high as vice