being constructed.

"This complex got the very best value that I know of for the money," said Sproule.

Sproule also credited DeAngelis Construction for a "phenomenal job" with the construction.

"Max and his team were wonderful to work with and creative in their approach. We would be very pleased to work with DeAngelis Construction in future projects."

He also mentioned that Nustadia had a "wonderful relationship" with council and stated that Amherstburg should be very proud of the final product.

Sproule said Nustadia doesn't usually donate funds to the recreation facilities they have a hand in producing; however, the United Community Credit Union Complex was different.

"This is a very special facility because of its accessibility," said Sproule. "As a result of that, I got my senior management group together and we are very proud and pleased to make this donation today."

Hurst called Nustadia's $40,000 donation "gratifying."

"We are very appreciative of the donation put forward by Nustadia," said Hurst. "It's gratifying to see how people are gravitating to this particular facility."

Hurst added that the United Community Credit Union Complex will re-energize the community for years to come.

Fundraising coordinator Debi Croucher said the total amount of donations is roughly around 1.5 million. She added that she will be going in front of council sometime in May to update them as to where the fundraising efforts currently sit.

"We are in the last stretch," said Croucher. "The end of the line is in sight, it is very exciting."
